

SWITCHED-ON KEYS

Private instruction by microphones and earphones—in a group atmosphere.

A flick of the switch and one student's question can be answered.

Four students learn notation at the black board while the others go on with another aspect of the lesson.

In dozens of school systems across the country, children are learning to play, read, transpose, even compose music in a space-age educational environment called the "electronic music laboratory."

With this new form of instruction, elementary school children are mastering music skills many a college student today wouldn't dare attempt.

These laboratories may contain anywhere from two to twenty-four electronic pianos. Each piano is equipped with an electronic control panel, cables, auxiliary tape recorders and record players, and a sophisticated set of earphones which allow each student to hear his own playing without disturbing others, and to communicate with the instructor.

The music instructor has a master control—an intricately designed panel into which all the other electronic pianos (or organs, as the case may be in some schools) are connected.

With the flick of a switch or the push of a button, the instructor can give personal attention to each student, or to individual groups of students, or to the entire class.

He may use master instructional tapes or records from his piano; some newer models have their own tape decks and record tables. What's more, he may demonstrate a passage of music on his own piano or discuss a particular technique with his microphone.

Electronic teaching programs don't aim to make every school child a concert artist. Rather, the programs are designed to foster a love of music, at best to enrich the students' whole educational experience.

Many of the major music manufacturers have developed or are developing electronic labs. At present, only piano and organ are being taught electronically. But with hard-rock groups, chamber music ensembles and many professional performers experimenting with amplifiers, synthesizers and other space-age innovations, who knows what the future holds? An electronic device no bigger than a throat lozenge could conceivably have us all singing like Caruso in a few years.

Personal guidance, with the teacher's direct attention.

This Week's PICTURE SHOW—AP Newsfeatures.

A skilled teacher leads an exploration of rhythm.

Typical electronic piano has two controls: one for volume (left), the other for regulating either individual or ensemble work.

Dear Curious: Far and away the biggest response-getter this fall was the column written by Vietnam war protestors (in response to "Soldier's Letter to Santa" and which lambasted "peaceniks.") When I printed it, I said only ONE letter had so far been received praising our "Nam involvement. I spoke too soon!

Those anti-war blasts inspired hundreds of rebuttals, and the score now stands four to one in FAVOR of our government's military policy (whatever that is.) This, however, proves nothing except that "arguers" write letters, while those who agree with a column's content figure the case has already been won, so nod their heads and keep quiet. In the next few weeks, the doves will no doubt outnumber the hawks, since I've announced Vietnamphiles are out in front. And so it goes. . . . (And how I wish this miserable, stinking war could go!) Next most discussed subject was "The Battle of the Baby-sitter." Sifters resented employer's complaints. Employers resented the sitters' stand for more money. A few on each side praised the others, and most agree, though grudgingly, that "light sitting" rated 75 cents per hour, but a dollar or more an hour wasn't too much for multiple kids and extra duties.

Ranking third on the comment meter was "Should Prostitution Be Legalized?" The vote? Five to one in FAVOR of legal brothels! But here again, you can't draw conclusions, for letters coming to a column don't make a valid survey. Those who want change rise to argue—especially since I took a mild negative stand.

(I'll print a few of these interesting letters in a later column—if I don't get censored!) More live ones? Wives still Jean Louis has styled a collection of high fashion rainwear for women which is being marketed and tailored by Hart Schaffner & Marx. It is rainwear that deserves a place in the sun. Rich, bright fabrics, including imports, highlight the line. Many come as ensembles and include a co-ordinated hat, umbrella, dress and signature scarf.

FASHION IN THE NEWS

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — John D. Gray, president of Hart Schaffner & Marx, is justly proud of his new offspring.

This old and respected menswear firm has now launched a new division, Chandelle, Ltd., a label created last year to introduce a high-fashion line of co-ordinated women's rainwear designed by Hollywood's noted Jean Louis.

The line includes raincoats matched with ties, signature scarves, umbrellas and sometimes even teamed with a co-ordinated dress.

The collection is beautiful and can go anywhere—rain or shine—to the office or to the opera.

The most exciting thing about it is the choice of fabrics used. They are a complete departure from what one associates with a downpour. There are pure silks, velvets, double knits, corduroy, duck and Dacron and cotton blends—all handsome and all waterproofed. The colors are luscious and the styles worthy of their famous designer.

Gray, a very attractive man who has been pretty much male-oriented until now where fashion is concerned, spoke about the new ladies' collection as though he thoroughly enjoys the feminine side of the fashion scene. And it was fun talking to the business side of HS&M about women's clothes.

"There's nothing wrong with miniskirts," Gray said. "And I can't believe women will succumb to so drastic a change as the maxi length, except in coats. The girls are too comfortable with their new freedom." But he agrees with Pierre Cardin in his dislike of women in pants in the city.

He admits he's still not quite accustomed to the see-through look but expects he'll get used to it. And, even though it could be handled in all modesty, there aren't any see-throughs in the new raincoat collection.

Gray believes that the miniskirt and other innovations in women's clothes have made men more conscious of the way THEY dress and are more willing to make fashion changes.

John Gray has a refreshing, basic approach to what women should wear to look attractive. And, since he is a constant world traveler in business, he has seen the fashions of most countries.

Yet he was equally enthusiastic about the big salmon he catches and the fact that he is probably the only civilian to have visited the South Pole as a guest of the Navy during a National Science Foundation expedition.

"That's the one place I'm sure the maxi would be welcomed. It was 40 degrees below zero."

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Doctor Treats Cause, Not Progress Rate

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I have arthritis. My last sedimentation rate was in the 90s. What causes this? Can anything be done for it?

A—An increased red cell sedimentation rate (above eight or above 15 depending on the method used) usually indicates active rheumatic fever, bacterial endocarditis or tuberculosis. It is sometimes seen in persons with leukemia, anemia, rheumatoid arthritis, cirrhosis of the liver, ulcerative colitis or a high cholesterol level. Your doctor will want to treat the cause, not the sedimentation rate which is useful as an indication of progress.

Q—What is meant by too much protein in the spinal fluid? What can be done for it?

A—This is a laboratory finding associated with poliomyelitis and encephalitis or brain fever. Your doctor would treat the disease—not the lab report.

Q—The lab report shows that my B.U.N. is too high. What is this test given for? What foods should I avoid?

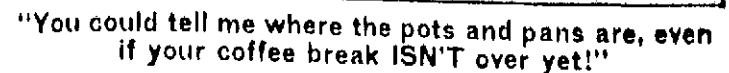

A—The B.U.N. (Blood Urea Nitrogen) level is high in various kidney diseases. Since, with few exceptions, diet is of minor importance, you should follow your doctor's advice regarding your choice of foods but, even more important, in regard to other forms of treatment.

Q—Could frequent doses of spirits of ammonia be harmful?

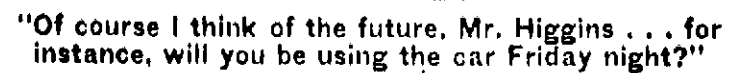

A—The chief use of spirits of ammonia is as a stimulant to prevent fainting. It may be inhaled or

Hope Team Humiliates Lincoln High

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

This is all true. Scoring a fantastic 71 points in the second half, the Hope Bobcats slaughtered the Camden Lincoln Tigers 84-6 in a 4A West game last night at Hammond Stadium.

At halftime Hope led 13-6, then ran off an unbelievable total of 46 points in the third quarter alone, before icing it with 25 more in the final segment.

When the dust cleared the Bobcats stood tall with an 8-2 record and 2-1 in the 4A Western Division, while Lincoln is now 1-6 for the year in 0-3 in the district. And the 84 points is easily the most scored by a Hope team in many years, though the reserves went in when it was 44-6.

Artis Martin scored four touchdowns and ran 11 times for 114 yards, pushing him to 1024 yards for the season on 154 carries, but everybody got into the act before it was over.

Martin took the opening kickoff 38 yards to the Tiger 42, but Lincoln then forced a Hope punt with 4th and seven. A roughing - the kicker - infraction against the Tigers gave the Bobcats a first down, and Martin swept the 24 yards for the first tally.

Ronny Brown's kick made it 7-1 with 10:28 left in the quarter, but Camden Lincoln came out hot.

Quarterback Cleveland Murphy moved the Tigers 72 yards to their only score in three plays, passing the last 31 to Richard Brown in the end zone. A two-point conversion was stopped, and the 7-6 Hope lead up for 18 minutes.

Then Ronnie Massanelli hit David Still on a 41-yard scoring pass with 2:07 left in the half, and the missed kick gave Hope a 13-6 halftime advantage.

This was all embarrassing for the Bobcats, who were a least four-touchdown favorites, and the squad came out fired up for a superhuman second half.

After Lincoln took the kickoff and was stopped, Artis Martin started the fireworks with a 60-yard punt return for his second TD. Massanelli threw to David Still for two points, and Hope led 21-6 with 10:48 left in the period.

Two plays later Bobcat Jim Alford recovered a fumble at the Tiger 12, and on third down Martin went over from the five. Brown kicked it to 28-6, with 8:32 left in the segment.

Lincoln took the kickoff, and on first down Hope safety Sidney Waller intercepted a Murphy pass and returned it 22 yards to the Tiger 11. This time Thomas Lloyd ran the 11 yards, and Brown's kick made it 35-6 with 7:45 left in the third quarter.

A major penalty pushed the Tigers back to their nine, and after several losses Robert Guley went back to punt. Bobcat Calvin Willis came flying through and blocked the boot out of the end zone for a safety to increase the margin to 37-7.

So Lincoln kicked from its 20, and David Still returned it 23 yards to the Tiger 31. Artis Martin took the ball on first down and hot-footed it all the 31 yards for his final six-pointer with 5:56 left in the period, and Brown's conversion made it 44-6 as the starters quietly retired.

The reserves were merciless. Starting from the Lincoln 46, the Cats took four plays to score, with Ray Wheelington dashing the last 16 yards. The PAT snap was high, so Ronny Brown just ran it over for a 52-6 lead with 2:31 still to go in the third stanza.

This time the Tigers got off two plays, before Bobcat monster man Terry Vines intercepted and raced 22 yards to pay.

Takes Second Look at Phone Cut Report

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman says a government-business decision to cut interstate long distance telephone rates could end up costing phone users more, not less.

Rep. Jonathan B. Bingham, D-N.Y., says he may try to block what he called an "outrageous deception" by the Federal Communications Commission and the Giant American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

AT&T said Wednesday it had reached agreement with the FCC to cut its interstate phone rates by nearly $240 million starting early next year. At the same time, the FCC said it would allow the company to boost its profits.

Bingham charged in a Thursday speech to the House that AT&T will use the FCC ruling to win approval of pending rate increases in 16 states and the District of Columbia to more than make up for the cut in interstate rates.

Figures Pro Winners This Weekend

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The roof really caved in last Sunday, trapping the Dallas Cowboys, St. Louis Cardinals, Oakland Raiders and the old Hand picker in the wreckage.

After a 6-7 week it takes a lot of heart to try again, even if a 64-24-3 season record does help. But the season is only half over and, at least, the Los Angeles Rams haven't let us down yet.

Let's try again with all games scheduled for Sunday in both the National Football League and the American Football League.

NFL
Minnesota 27, Cleveland 17 — When Carl Eller, Alan Page and Co. run up against Dick Schafrath and Friends, somebody is going to get hurt. If Bill Nielsen gets through another week without getting his shirt dirty he should go into the Hall of Fame. Joe Kapp and Fred Cox team up while defense holds the fort.

Los Angeles 31, San Francisco 21 — The 49ers almost made George Allen turn grey in first game when Rams had to come from way back to win. Roman Gabriel on the beam while John Brodie has been having arm trouble but is due back. Always a war.

New York 24, St. Louis 20 — A hunch upset on the grounds that Fran Tarkenton is overdue to start hitting and the Saints did score 51 points on the Cardinal defense last week. But Giant offensive line must keep Cards off Francis' neck.

Baltimore 24, Green Bay 21 — If Terry Hanratty can score 34 points on Packers, why not John Unitas? Revamped Colt defense did a job on Washington but gets big test in Packers' revived attack.

Dallas 31, New Orleans 17 — This was to have been the year for the Cowboys at long last but something went wrong at Cleveland. They can't take Saints lightly after last week's 51-point spree and close 21-17 early game won by Cowboys in last quarter on a big day by Calvin Hill.

Chicago 14, Pittsburgh 10 — Bears are favored but why with 0-7 record? Wrigley Field natives getting unruly and that Bear defense can make life miserable for Hanratty. Gaje Sayers building up steam for a big blowoff.

Washington 24, Philadelphia 17 — Eagle defense full of holes and Sonny Jurgensen will take full advantage of it. Redskins pass defense will clamp down on Norm Snead but Tom Woodeshick may run for 100.

Detroit 20, Atlanta 14 — In-and-out Lions never have lost to Falcons and Tiger Stadium is no place to break the habit. Lions a shade better on offense and tougher on defense with strong pass rush.

AFL
Oakland 30 Denver 14 — It must have been a tough week for Raiders after that humiliation in Cincinnati. At Davis will cut off the meal money if they blow another. Broncos hurting without Floyd Little.

Kansas City 27, San Diego 17 — Chiefs lead league in four statistical categories and hold half game edge in West. Chargers seem to have run out of gas and have been hard hit by injuries although time may be back.

New York 30, Buffalo 17 — Bills always are tough for Jets

Landry's 'Mental Balance' Eliminates the Panic Button

By FRAN TARKENTON

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Just before last year's Pro Bowl game, the quarterback backs went over the game plan with Tom Landry, the coach of our team. I was impressed by his thoroughness, alertness and ability to explain complex ideas in simple ways, the same trait Vince Lombardi has.

I turned to Don Meredith, who was the quarterback under Landry for the first nine years of the existence of the Dallas Cowboys, and I said, "This man leaves nothing to question."

And Meredith said, "He scares you sometimes, he's so right."

Landry has been right enough times to help mold the Dallas Cowboys into one of the game's finest teams. They proved it again on national television, beating us 25-3, though things were in doubt until the last quarter.

I've played against them since 1961, their second year in the league. And the remarkable thing is, they've improved each season. That has to be due in large part to Landry. He has provided a proper mental balance for the team in general and, with that, has developed one of the quickest teams, offensively and defensively, in the history of the National Football League.

who had to come on stronger for 33-19 opening day win at Buffalo. Loss of Georges Saines at safety blow to Buffalo and Joe Namath might just pick on that spot.

Miami 21, Boston 17 — Dolphins almost upset Jets last week while Pats were shutting out Houston. Miami won a Sept. 6 exhibition, 13-0, and should do it again.

Houston 21, Cincinnati 20 — Oilers extra tough in that Astro-dome unless they lost it all in Boston.

Horseman Dies in Carolina

ST. MATTHEWS, S.C. (AP) — Isaac Dalton Prickett, 57, a leader in the development of thoroughbred horse breeding in South Carolina, died Tuesday after an illness.

Dismissal of Petition Asked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Pulaski County Board of Education voted Thursday to dismiss a petition asking it to remove Leroy Gattin from the Board.

The petition, which was filed last week, asked that someone be appointed to replace Gattin on the seven-member board.

Gattin, fired during the summer as superintendent of the Pulaski County schools, was appointed to a vacancy on the school board on Sept. 29 by a 2-1 vote of the board members.

Mooring 'Painter'

The rope used to tie a boat to the mooring is called a painter. Originally, this—called in French peinture—was the rope holding the anchor to the ship. This goes back to the Middle Ages and eventually to the Latin word pendere, to hang.

Tom Landry

Craig Morton

By proper mental balance, I mean this: Dallas never has a "Do or Die" situation. They've never had to "Win or Else." They have never had a panic predicament.

You never hear people saying, "Well, if Dallas doesn't win it this year, they're through." I remember several years back in Minnesota where that kind of talk hurt us. We finished second behind Green Bay, which was a great accomplishment, and in only our fourth year in the league. We were expected to really be something the next season. We never lived up to expectations, mainly, I think, because we felt that pressure. Landry has been able to keep the team, the front office and the fans expecting only a good performance.

Defensively, the Cowboys are coming into a class of their own. They are so quick that sometimes I'd get back into the pocket and I practically find their Front Four waiting for me. My offensive linemen tell me there is no better defensive tackle than Bob Lilly. He has been in the league nine years and is probably faster now than he has ever been.

An important element to the quick cohesiveness of the defensive team is their experience. Nine of the 11 regulars have played together for four or five years, and five or six of them have played together for eight years. And of equal importance, they stay healthy.

Offensively, there is no need to go into the depth of running backs, which is incredible. They lose Don Perkins to retirement, and come up with rookie Calvin Hill. Hill is not as fast as Sayers or Kelly, but he is one of the biggest backs I've ever seen.

At Indiana, Jade Butcher Is More Than a Catchy Name

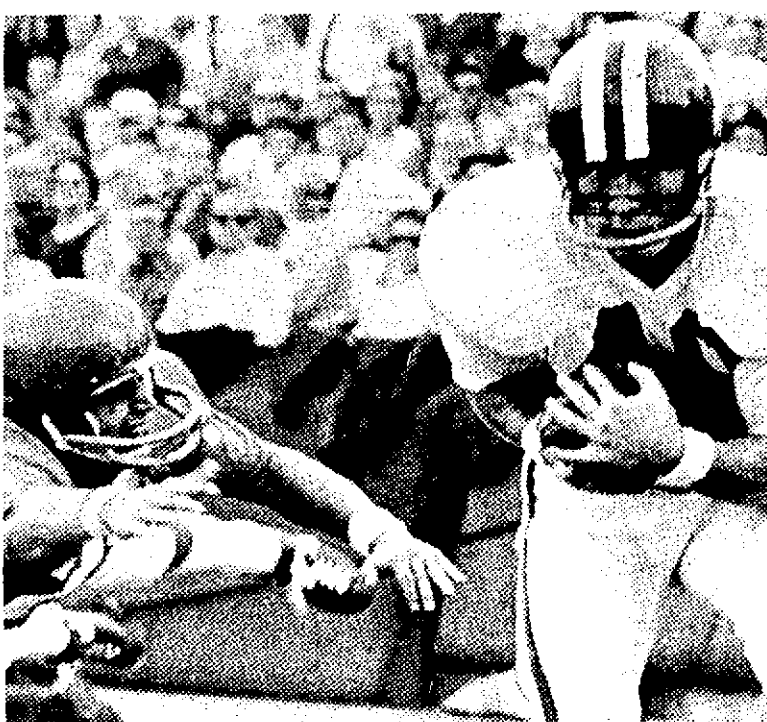

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — (NEA) — Only now are rivals starting to get the idea that the whacky Indiana image is a little overblown.

Harry Gonso is a gutty little quarterback with supreme confidence he can pull off implausible plays—a charge! go-for-the-pin sort of guy. A prelaw major with horn-rimmed glasses and a dean's list grade average, he "Sirs" everyone not wearing bell-bottoms and he hasn't run a play yet that really surprised Coach John Pont. No flake he.

Neither is John Isenbarger, portrayed as an unbridled kook since running the ball a few times from punt formation his sophomore year. He is Indiana's all-time leading rusher, but he's "Punt, John, Punt" to millions for his reluctance to let fourth-and-3 at his own 14 in the last quarter of a tie game coerce him into punting. That happened two seasons and a Rose Bowl ago, and since then, Pont has had few more-disciplined athletes than prelaw major Isenbarger, who, has not since had a punt blocked.

Jade Butcher, the one for whom few zany legends have been created, perhaps deserves some.

Start with the name. "Jade Butcher" it was the brain-

THE DEFENDER tried, but Indiana's Jade Butcher made it into the end zone anyway.

child of father Clifford Butcher, who hasn't yet told him how he hit on it. "I don't have any idea where it came from," said Butcher. "I've only known one other Jade in my life—dated her a time or two last year."

"One of the more intellectual discussions on our squad is whether Jade is a flake or a ding-a-ling," says Pont with a twinkle. But, Iowa Coach Ray Nagel, burned for four Butcher touchdown catches in two years, re-acted with the comment: "He didn't look like a flake to me carrying that ball across the goal line. I'll take a flake like that any day."

Scoring is an art form for Butcher, who has never cracked the nation's top 25 list in passes caught but hasn't failed yet to make the top five in touchdown passes caught. He grabbed 10 TD passes his sophomore season (including at least one in his first six collegiate games), and he came back with 10 more as a junior.

In his 23rd college game, he caught his 24th touchdown pass to break the Indiana scoring record set 20 years ago by Pete Pihos, a Hall of Fame fullback-end who spent four years and 49 games of running and pass-catching to get his 23 TDs.

Notre Dame, Hoosier fans like to point out, has had 18 All-American ends and the best any of them ever had was 16 career touchdowns catches.

Butcher has such fine hands and determination in pursuit of a touchdown pass that Gonso has rewritten the Indiana book on operating close to the goal line. Seven times, Gonso has hit Butcher in the end zone from inside the opposition's five-yard-line frequently on first down. At other times, he has sprinted Butcher's way, arm cocked, then scooped into the end zone while defenders covered Butcher.

"They can't cover Jade," says Gonso. "He absolutely never drops a ball, and I miss him, he'd never let anybody intercept one. It's the safest play we have."

Gonso-to-Butcher is a combination that has clicked more than 70 times.

Boston Celtics

Havlicek

PROSPECTUS—The Celtics have been counted out more times than Richard Nixon, but somehow almost always manage to celebrate the coming of spring with a world championship. This time, however, with Bill Russell and Sam Jones officially retired, it appears that Boston might stay down. Prediction—Sixth in East, but don't count on it.

Bryant

FORWARD—The Celtics' strongest position. With Russell gone, John Havlicek becomes the team's star. No one in the NBA deserves the recognition more. Havlicek averaged 21.6 and made the league all-defensive team last season while Bailey Howell (197), Dan Nelson (11-6), and Tom Sanders (11-2) made timely contributions. All are aging but there should be no breakdown for at least another season. Rating—A—

CENTER—Henry Finkle and Jim Barnes do not a Russell make. Nor does Rich Johnson. Boston needs plenty of help here. Rating—C

GUARD—Sam Jones and his 20 point average will be missed, to be sure, but pucky Em Bryant and Larry Siegfried will remain effective on defense and adequate on offense. Top draft choice Jo Jo White of Kansas will supply support, along with Don Chaney. Rating—B ROOKIES—White was bypassed by eight clubs before Boston drafted him. Celtics' General Manager Red Auerbach considers him a star of the future.

New Trends Apparent in Pleasure Boating

By WM. T. McKEOWN
NEA Boating Editor

CHICAGO — (NEA) — The country's newest pleasure boats—nearly 1,000 of them—were collected here recently in the Chicago Amphitheater.

Crammed into the Windy City's political playground next to the stockyards, the boats crowded out into the amphitheater's parking lot.

Certain new trends were apparent, including:

• Houseboats and heftier horsepower are hot items, with hotter prices Chrysler's top new outboard hits 120 h.p., and Johnson and Evinrude check in at 115 each. All offer special high performance hulls as well, with some that reach 150 h.p. and $2,000. Inboard outboards are approaching 500 horses each.

• Pontoon boats are growing up as well. Floating rafts are going fancy, with Glas-ton's Fun Deck featuring inboard power and speeds for water skiing. Smaller houseboats are being introduced that can do double duty as floating mobile homes before launching. Big houses afloat are available in waterside condominium resort communities where an owner can rent out his houseboat part of the year.

• Gadgets flourishing. A survey showed even a dinghy or fishing skill now can stow some of the new compact self-powered fish finders, depth sounders, radio direction finders and ship-to-shore telephones aboard.

• On bigger boats, air conditioning may not be necessary to keep cool, but it helps block out bugs. Financier electronic instruments now read in lighted digits instead of on dials and even flash and ring an alarm if the water is getting too shallow under the keel, too deep over the floorboards or if the engine is getting too hot or if the bilge is about to explode.

• All the comforts of home now going afloat, however the new tax write is probably the automatic ice maker. This boating bonus can make anchoring as much fun as getting under way. (Cont.)

Getting the Mails Through

That's perfectly all right about neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom staying the mails, but the real challenge is getting an improved postal service through Congress. The Nixon Administration and the Johnson Administration agreed on the need for a complete overhaul of the postal operation — specifically the placing of a government corporation, thereby relieving Congress of the year-to-year worry, and the patronage, and maybe even introducing improved business methods.

But the other day the House Post Office Committee failed by only one vote to dispatch the plan to the House floor. Actually, the vote was 13 to 13, but committee rules say a tie means defeat.

Postal unions have fought the corporation idea bitterly, fearing a loss of the powers they have with Congress, which is working on postal changes within the framework of the present setup.

Postmaster General Winston M. Blount declared after the defeat of the corporation plan, "I am concerned that some members of the committee continue to ignore the will of the overwhelming majority of the voters in their own districts, as demonstrated in poll after poll."

Short Week, Anyone?

If you are one of the 70-odd million employed workers in the United States, you may have read dubiously of some union leaders' efforts to gain four-day-week contracts. If you are among the nearly 4 per cent who have no job, perhaps the five-day or even six-day week would be welcomed.

Anyhow, it seems that a notable percentage of the job-holders have found a way to shorten their weeks, regardless of collective bargaining. The Wall Street Journal reports that "there are no national figures, but checks with many corporations indicate absenteeism is clearly on the rise." It cites General Motors, with 424,000 workers who are paid by the hour, as having a "problem of magnitude" in absenteeism.

This is not a problem peculiar to capitalist countries. An official Cuban newspaper, Granma, reported recently that in 187 factories of that country the workers were engaged in production only 5 hours and 44 minutes of their 8-hour day. On state farms, the paper said, absenteeism had reached a "critical point."

Absenteeism involves more than the man-hours of the individual workers who take unscheduled days off. The absentees do not always give sufficient notice so that they can be replaced. Sometimes no replacements with comparable skills or training are available. A plant's scheduled output is thereby reduced.

From the point of view of the buyers of goods, of course, the main regrettable fact is that a shorter week tends toward scarcity. The goods cost more — in terms of shoes, socks, suits, shirts and what have you. The worker who shortens his own week also pays more because he and others have produced less. His informal day off then costs him more than the pay he was willing to lose. — New Orleans (La.) Times-Picayune

Pentagon to Build Low Cost Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon plans to produce as many as 325 relatively inexpensive, easy-to-fly fighter aircraft for Asian allies including South Vietnam over the next five or six years.

Officials Thursday reported this is the foreseeable demand for the new jet as Sen. J. W. Fulbright attacked the program as "backdoor foreign aid."

The plane would go not only to South Vietnam but also to South Korea, Formosa and other countries eligible for U.S. military aid, Pentagon officials said.

New Motions Expected for Black Panther

CHICAGO (AP) — A San Francisco lawyer planned to present new motions today in behalf of Bobby Seale, sentenced by Judge Julius J. Hoffman to four years in prison for contempt of court.

The nature of the motions to be offered by the attorney, Francis J. McTernan, was not disclosed in advance. Hoffman denied McTernan's motions Thursday to vacate the contempt order and to set bond for Seale pending a possible appeal.

Seale, 33, national chairman of the Black Panther party, was ruled in contempt Wednesday because of a series of courtroom disruptions at the trial of Seale and seven others charged with conspiracy to provoke riots during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

Seale's outbursts largely were protests against a ruling that he could not act as his own lawyer. His attorney, Charles R. Garry, long-time counsel for the Black Panthers, was unable to be present because of recent surgery.

McTernan is Garry's law partner.

Throughout the U.S. District Court trial, Seale has been held in jail on a New Haven, Conn., fugitive warrant charging him with murder. He is the only one of the eight defendants not free on bond. At the time Judge Hoffman ruled Seale in contempt, he also declared a mistrial for Seale, severed his case from the others and scheduled a separate trial for him in April.

Judge Hoffman also denied Thursday motions for mistrial in behalf of the other seven defendants. The judge rejected counsel's contention that the jury was influenced by the behavior of Seale.

Safety Leader; Robert Vandiver, Associate Extension Home Economist; Herbert Griffin, Deputy Sheriff; Mrs. Arch Wylie, Chairman County Family Living Committee; Mrs. Curtis Anderson, Jaycees.

County Educational, Governmental and Service leaders take a look at automobile accidents in the county and plan for County Defensive Driving 8-hour short course to help drivers learn how to drive to stay alive.

This training will be held in four, 2 hour sessions December 1, 4, 8, 11, from 7 P.M. till 9 P.M. at the Red River Vocational School. Trooper Ray Davis, Instructor, describes the importance of the training and encourages all drivers in the county to participate. Trooper Davis works under the supervision of Captain Milton Mosier.

Senate Bill to Protect Consumers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed without dissent a bill to protect consumers against arbitrary and erroneous credit reports.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., chief sponsor of the bill, hailed its passage Thursday as "the biggest consumer victory this year" in Congress.

The measure now goes to the House where sponsors of similar legislation said the subject would be considered in the Banking Committee later this year or early in 1970.

Any House floor action will not come before next year, they said.

The measure should "prevent consumers from being unjustly damaged because of inaccurate or arbitrary information," the senator said.

"How to drive to stay alive" is something vital to everyone in this Age of the Automobile Accident. After the numerous local accidents in our vicinity recently, more and more people are conscious of the need for defensive driving. But what is the best method of accomplishing this?

In a meeting on Monday of this week much interest was shown by local citizens for having a Defensive Driving Course designed by the National Safety Council to develop better and safer drivers.

The Agricultural Extension Service in co-operation with the police department and county educational, governmental, and service organizations is offering such a course in four sessions at the Red River Vo-Tech School December 1st, 4th, 8th, and 11th.

Safe driving requires the adoption of an attitude toward operating a motor vehicle known as "defensive driving." The defensive driver is not timid or over-cautious, but he is determined to take every reasonable precaution to prevent mishaps, over and above what the law requires him to do.

Those who take this course will have the opportunity to learn what is involved in driving defensively, why and how various types of motor vehicle accidents occur, and what it takes to prevent them. They will be able to evaluate and improve their own driving with a standard of driving excellence that will be provided.

Trooper Ray Davis of the Arkansas State Police Safety Division, supervised by Capt. Milton Mosier, will be the trained and approved instructor for the course, and he will be using material developed by the National Safety Council on the basis of more than 50 years' experience in accident prevention. The only cost is $1 for the workbook to be used.

The course will be in 4 sessions, 2 hours each, from 7 to 9 p.m. on December 1, 4, 8, and 11. Preregistration must be completed by November 21 and can be done at the Agricultural Extension Service office in the Hempstead County Courthouse or by filling out an enrollment blank that will appear in the Hope Star next week. Watch for it. It can be returned to the Extension Office, and, thus, you will be enrolled.

In the four sessions, those attending will learn (1) Is there such a thing as a perfect trip? What is a preventable accident? Who prevents it? What goes on in traffic court?

(2) How do you cope with a tailgate? Why are head-on crashes the deadliest? What do you do when the other car comes straight at you on a straight road?

(3) What 4 steps can keep you out of intersection collisions? This is where 42 per cent of all accidents in a city occur.

(4) What is a "mystery crash?" What causes it? How can you avoid it? How can you best control your vehicle on a curve? What do you do when a tire blows?

All these things are something you would like to know more about, you say? Buy you are so busy, especially at this time of year. Hm-m-m-m. There are more and more things you simply must do. How many of them will involve driving a car? Do you suppose 8 hours of your time over a 2-week period is worth the one or more lives that may be saved by what you learn?

"X Marks the Spot", and at Xmas it's often the spot of an accident. Throughout the holidays, Thanksgiving through New Year's, this is also true. Take this Defensive Driving Short Course, and learn how to keep your driving record "spotless."

Difficulties May Hamper Hijacker

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The flight of a hijacked Argentine jetliner ended in Montevideo early Saturday when the hijacker surrendered to authorities after he was told the plane had "technical difficulties" and could not continue to Cuba.

Victor Garin, chief of Montevideo's Carrasco Airport, said after negotiating with the hijacker aboard the plane that the man had been taken to police headquarters.

The Austral S.A. airliner with 75 persons aboard was hijacked shortly after it took off on a domestic flight from Cordoba, Argentina.

Officials said a man seized a child from the arms of a passenger and threatened to kill him if the pilot refused to obey orders. The BAC111 twin-jet rereaded at Cordoba to refuel, let seven passengers get off, then took off for Montevideo. When it landed at Montevideo's Carrasco Airport, the remaining 64 passengers were permitted to leave the plane while airport chief Victor Garin negotiated with the hijacker.

Local sources said the plane was not in condition to make a long trip due to technical difficulties with its electrical system. They said the hijacker was trying to obtain political asylum in Uruguay instead of going to Cuba, his original destination.

One of the passengers aboard the flight, Jose Gonzales, said the hijacker spoke of having political difficulties in Argentina.

The plane was on a flight from Cordoba to Buenos Aires, 450 miles to the east, when it was commandeered.

202 Pints of Blood for Three Youths

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — A Navy rescue operation has yielded 202 pints of blood for the three Park boys, and there's more where that came from.

The children are hemophiliacs, whose blood does not clot. A slight cut is enough to put them in the hospital.

Between them Clifford Park, 16, and his brothers David, 8, and John, 4, have had more than 1,000 pints of blood transfusions this year.

The cost of the blood at $35 a pint plus the mounting hospital bills was becoming a burden to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Park, could no longer bear.

Word of their plight reached Navy men in the big Key West military complex and on Thursday the sailors showed up in droves at a blood clinic run by the Hemophilia Foundation.

Little John was there to watch.

"He's fascinated watching the people draw out the blood," his mother said. "He's so used to seeing it go in."

When John Park was hospitalized three days in September it cost $1,876. His brothers also have made trips to the hospital. Mrs. Park estimated the bills at $30,000.

Their father makes $8,500 a year as an employee of the Office of Housing and Urban Development.

Mrs. Park said there were two mortgages on their house, a bank loan and loans from finance companies and friends.

The Park brothers spend half their days in bed.

"They want to go out and play," Mrs. Park said. "They just can't do it. They know a cut will put them back in the hospital."

Man Charged in Fatal Shooting

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Paul Edward Rudabush, 21, of Hazel Valley (Washington County) was charged with first-degree murder Thursday in the death of Sebb Jones, 48, Rudabush's neighbor.

The shooting allegedly occurred Friday night during an argument. Jones died early Thursday at a Fayetteville hospital.

Suits Filled in Firing Teachers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An attorney for the Arkansas Education Association told the Association of Classroom Teachers Thursday that several suits had been filed in an attempt to establish state court rulings that teachers can't be fired "without a procedure to determine whether legitimate grounds" exists for their dismissal.

Eugene R. Warren, the attorney, said such a precedent had been established in federal courts.

Mississippi Told to Desegregate

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal appeals court, rejecting a Justice Department plea for delay, has told 30 Mississippi school districts to prepare now to desegregate by Dec. 31.

"When we say you have to get started immediately, that is what we mean—tomorrow," said Judge Griffin B. Bell of Atlanta during a conference Thursday with the district school superintendents.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals judges gave the superintendents a rough outline of what they must do and said the official orders would be issued today.

For the most part, districts were told to follow guidelines laid down for them last Aug. 11 by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW).

A Justice Department proposal that the appeals court delay a little longer to enable the school boards to draw up their own desegregation plans, with HEW assistance, was rejected.

The Supreme Court, in a decision Oct. 22, ordered immediate desegregation of the districts.

Judge Bell, the spokesman for the three-judge appeals court panel, stressed that school officials should begin the reassignment of pupils and faculty, the revamping of school bus routes and other services and facilities as soon as the formal order is issued.

By Dec. 31, the judge said, the plans should be in complete operation.

Mississippi Atty. Gen. A.W. Summer, pleading for more time, asked the court to give the boards a few days to prepare questions about the changes ahead.

"We have been ordered by the Supreme Court to act immediately," said Judge Bell.

The judge also noted that the new plans for desegregation were submitted to the school boards last summer and should be familiar to the officials concerned.

Little Change in Military Money Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two months of sound and fury in the U.S. Senate this past summer signified relatively little in the final $20.7 billion military authorization bill which has been sent to President Nixon.

Here's what happened to some of the amendments won by senators who had hoped to curb defense spending:

— Restrictions on chemical-biological warfare development were eased somewhat and $5.5 million of the Senate's $16 million cut in CBW research and development funds were restored.

— A formula in the bill could boost independent research funds as much as $200 million above the Senate's $468 million ceiling.

— Provisions for studying defense profits were rewritten, leaving the General Accounting Office without subpoena power unless it is granted by congressional committees.

— A Senate prohibition on military aid to Thailand and Laos for support of local ground forces was deleted.

— Some or all of the funds were restored for the Cobra helicopter, A7E Naval aircraft, the Short Range Attack Missile, the Army's Sam-D surface-to-air missile, the Navy's E2C aircraft, the Navy's advanced surface missile system, the Airborne Warning and Control System and the RF-111 reconnaissance aircraft.

Agreement on March Route Undecided

By WILLIAM BARTON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Department officials and war protest leaders were about 1,000 feet from agreement today on the proposed route of the Nov. 15 mass march through Washington.

White House security officials adamantly insisted such a large group—estimates range from 100,000 to 500,000—should not be permitted closer than that to the executive mansion.

The Justice Department, after consultation with the White House, agreed Friday to let the mass march proceed next Saturday as long as the route is Constitution Avenue and the demonstrators don't make a side trip to the presidential residence.

But the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam rejected the government proposal, again saying that any plan must allow marchers to pass in front of the White House.

The New Mobilization said demonstrators feel they must make a symbolic gesture of protest to the policy-making executive branch of government.

The war protest leaders remained steadfast in demanding a swing by the White House and they said Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst knew their position before he offered the latest government proposal.

Kleindienst said Friday the department believes "that the demonstrators have a clear right to meet in Washington and to petition the government for a redress of their grievances."

He said his plan, under which the march would proceed down Constitution to 17th Street and then to the Washington Monument area, would satisfy both goals.

The route was proposed by Kleindienst after day-long meetings with march leaders and a separate session with representatives of various capital security forces, including police, the Secret Service and the Army.

Kleindienst said the government is willing to continue negotiations on other route alternatives. Both sides have reached agreement on all other aspects of the three-day demonstration.

Nixon and Advisers Are in Florida

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon and some of his principal Cabinet advisers are spending a long Florida weekend mixing relaxation with serious talk about Vietnam and arms curb negotiations with the Soviets.

The President and Mrs. Nixon flew to their bayside home Thursday night and will remain at least until Sunday.

With them were Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's assistant for national security affairs.

American Legion Post 12 will have a potluck dinner at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the National Guard Armory, according to Commander Claude Byrd. Guest speaker will be Ken Hargis of the Social Security division. He will discuss veteran benefits.

Robber Caught in 10 Minutes

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A North Little Rock man arrested Thursday 10 minutes after the robbery of the Rose City Branch of the Twin City Bank of North Little Rock has been charged with robbery of the bank.

Authorities said Glenn T. Brady, 45, had been charged. Officers said a large amount of money was recovered when Brady was arrested, but the amount of money taken was not disclosed.

Two bank employees said a lone gunman ordered them to empty the contents of two desk drawers into a bag and that they complied.
